

Load Patterns from File

A screenshot of a software interface. At the top, there is a checkbox that is checked, with the label "Load patterns from file". Below this, there is a text input field labeled "Path:". To the right of the text input field is a small button with three dots, typically used for file selection.

Use this checkbox to load patterns from file. When this option is active the Search for field is disabled.